NATHAN WILSON

Nathan Wilson was born in 1987 in Cleveland Heights. He attended Oxford Elementary School and Monticello Middle School before moving to Shaker Heights. He graduated from Shaker Heights High School, where he was on the soccer team and played trumpet in the school's marching and concert bands. He is currently a nursing major at Seton Hall University in New Jersey. He is involved in the Students Nursing Association and Habitat for Humanity. Nathan loves visiting nearby New York City.

Nathan has been a scout since kindergarten, when he became a Tiger Cub in Pack 3. He joined Troop 22 in May of his 5th grade year. He was the troop's first-aid instructor for one year and helped coordinate and run the first-aid event at Klondike. He served Troop 22 as Quartermaster and as the patrol leader of the Thunder Dragons. Nathan received the Troop 22 150/50 award for 150 nights of camping and 50 hours of service. He enjoys all camping especially Klondike events and backpacking. His camping experiences include high adventure at BSA Seabase and a high adventure canoeing trip in Canada. Nate is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Nathan's Eagle Scout project was painting walls and cabinets for New Life Community in Shaker Heights. New Life provides transitional housing for homeless families. The built-in cabinets that Nathan and his group of fellow scouts painted provide storage for New Life's residents. Nathan volunteered at New Life every Thursday his senior year of high school, looking after children while their parents were in budgeting classes.

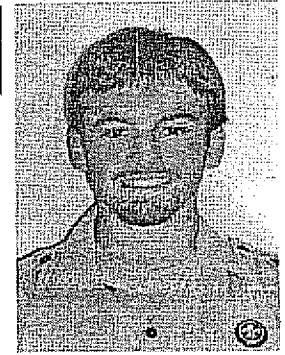

DANIEL J. TAYLOR-SHAUT

Danny Taylor-Shaut was born August 16, 1987, attended Ruffing Montessori School through eighth grade and is now a senior at Shaker Heights High School. In high school Danny has been involved with the Junior Council on World Affairs, the drawing and painting programs, as well as the JV and Varsity soccer teams. Danny has applied to various schools across the country and is interested in studying sports management, Spanish and kinesiology.

Danny began scouts in second grade by joining Cub Scout Pack 11 with several of his classmates. He stayed with scouting all the way, even though the friends he started with had all stopped participating in scouts. Danny crossed over to Troop 22 in 1997 and was very anxious about the program. He had a rocky first few years, but by the time he was in high school he found his niche; he took a stronger liking to the program, specifically backpackers and winter campouts. Danny was further driven to achieve Eagle Scout rank by being the only member of his immediate family involved in Scouting since his grandfather became an Eagle Scout in 1929.

Danny's Eagle Service Project entailed transplanting and storing the "peace" garden at Ruffing elementary school. The move preserved the numerous trees, shrubs and flowers growing in the garden while the school undergoes construction to expand classrooms and learning environments.

Danny would like to thank Ari Klein, the rest of the adult leaders who helped him along this path, and his first Patrol Leaders Brendan Knoblauch and Owen Schaner. Danny would like to thank his mother and father who started him on this path and kept him motivated all along the way. He also congratulates Nate, Andy and Matt for receiving their Eagle Scout awards.

ANDREW NASH

Andrew Nash was born on September 7, 1987. He attended Canterbury Elementary School, Wiley Middle School and graduated from Cleveland Heights High School in June 2005. Andy was on the varsity soccer, swim, and lacrosse teams, played euphonium in the IMD, and was active in his church community and youth group at First Unitarian Church in Shaker Heights.

Now attending Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, Andy majors in math and studies theatre and Eastern religions. He has already performed in two theatre productions, is active in College Democrats and is on the varsity swim team. Andy is a card-carrying math geek, and tutors all ages of students.

In sixth grade Andy joined Troop 22 at James Kastelic's invitation, despite no previous Scouting background. He was in five patrols: Dragonslayers, Griffins, Pirates, Senior Patrol and Thunderdragons. For two years he was patrol leader of the Pirates, a new boy patrol. He moved up the ladder to Senior Patrol Leader in 2003-04, then resumed a favorite activity of patrol leader, this time for the Thunderdragons. He is a member of the 150/50 club and Order of the Arrow.

For Andy's Eagle Scout project, he went back to his roots: Canterbury Elementary School. There his group renovated the gardens around the Peace Pole and Outdoor Classroom, replaced the old Peace Pole (thanks to Canterbury PTA), pruned trees, planted flowers and collected trash. After seeing these Scouts at work, neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell treated the group to pizza and pop.

Andy would like to thank his parents for their love and support, as well as the army of "parents" who provided even more love and support (there are too many to list, but they KNOW who they are!), Ari Klein and his team of Assistant Scoutmasters and other adult leaders, many of the Scouts themselves (one wrote a letter of recognition for Andy to receive this honor), his church leaders and friends, his teachers and coaches from kindergarten straight through his senior year at Heights, and all the other adults and friends who helped him along the way. He congratulates his new fellow-Eagles: Nate, Matt and Danny.

MATT URMINSKI

Matt Urminski began Scouting in the first grade, joining Cub Scout Pack 3 out of Oxford Elementary School. He eventually joined Troop 22 at the end of his fifth grade year as a member of the Dragon Slayer Patrol. He has held positions as Assistant Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader, Assistant Senior Patrol Leader and Troop Scribe. Matt has been very active in the Troop's High Adventure program, having gone on four trips since he was first eligible, during one of which he was a Crew Chief. He also worked at Cub Scout Day Camp for five years where he was a Den Chief for four and in charge of Cub Sports for one. Matt is also a member of the Order of the Arrow.

For his Eagle Project, Matt produced a marching band instructional video for the Cleveland Heights High School Instrumental Music Department. This allowed him to combine the leadership and management skills he learned in Scouts with his deep interest in music education. The project involved recording several band members executing each command correctly and then editing the video for viewing and reproduction.

Though Scouting has always been a priority, Matt's other interests have included Relay for Life, swim team and political activism. As a musician, he was involved in the C.H.H.S. Marching Band, serving as Head Tuba for two years, Symphony Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble and the Contemporary Youth Orchestra. He also mentored math at Heights High during his senior year. He enjoys playing ultimate frisbee, drum circles and camping outside of Scouts.

Matt now attends Ohio University as a Music Education major. He is a member of several ensembles as well as the Collegiate Music Educators' National Conference. He is pursuing interests in both music and theater and hopes to have some of his own works performed soon. He still fosters a deep love for Scouting and hopes to continue working with them for years to come.

Thank you.

The parents of tonight's honored Eagle Scouts would like to thank everyone for attending this ceremony and for their loving support. We also extend our gratitude to all Troop 22 adults and scouts who helped our sons throughout their Scout experience and in their quests to become Eagles.
