EAGLE SCOUT

Andrew Pimlott entered Troop 22 in September 1988 at the urging of his father. Andrew served a short term as Troop Scribe in 1990 before taking over the responsibility for the Indian Patrol as their Patrol Leader in December. Since Andrew proved to be a capable and responsible leader, he was asked to take charge of part of the incoming Webelos in May 1991. He served as Patrol Leader of the mighty Viking Patrol, some of whose members are running the Troop today. In March 1992 Andrew was elected by the Troop to the post of Senior Patrol Leader which he held until March 1993. For his Eagle Project, Andrew started recycling office paper in the Heights Center Building. Andrew continues a tradition of earning the Eagle Award from his mother's side of the family, where at least 15 eagles over three generations have been earned.

Andrew attended Ruffing Montessori School through middle school, and University School for high school. In high school, Andrew ran cross-country and track as well as being an outstanding student. He is currently studying mathematics and physics and running cross-country at Harvard College, where he wishes he could do more camping.
